

Do you have a desire to make an impact as part of your education? Do you have an international background and/or mindset? Are you able to transform your theoretical knowledge into practical results?

As part of our long-term cooperation with Aalborg University, NTU International are looking for a new group of skilled master's degree students to take part in our ambitious internship program. Every year we welcome a group of 6-8 interns at our headquarters in Aalborg, who get to work with project acquisition and management of our worldwide development projects. We have successfully trained more than 50 interns throughout the years, many of which are now a part of our permanent staff. Are you the next addition to our team?

Your personality matters

Your specific field of study is not essential to us, you might be studying International Business, International Relations, Communication, Human Resource Management, Economics, anything in-between, or something completely different. What matters most to us, is your personal drive, your eye for detail, your ability to work under pressure, and way of navigating in our international HQ that employs more than 20 nationalities.

We expect your...

- English skills to be excellent, both written and spoken. All other languages that you master on a professional level are considered a bonus to us!
- communication to be professional, precise and adaptable to suit people from different cultures, and with various personalities, backgrounds and
- mindset to be positive, pro-active and professional, and ready for a steep learning curve with challenges and adverse tasks along the way
- teamworking skills to be on-point, and your backpack to be filled with ambitions, aspirations and a well-documented understanding of solving problems in adverse settings.

Your tasks will primarily be to assist with:

- Developing overview of funding opportunities for new projects
- Talent search and recruitment of experts and project staff for our international projects
- Assisting project managers with project reports and quality control of deliverables
- Information search and reporting on topics ranging from road safety to climate change
- Budgeting and resource planning for large scale international projects
- Various ad hoc tasks that arise along the way due to project needs or your professional interests

The position

The position is an internship; therefore, you will need to be a master's student enrolled in a university in order to apply. The internship also gives a possibility to write master thesis in cooperation with NTU.

Applications will be reviewed on an ongoing basis until we have found a suitable group of interns. Apply now to ensure you will be taken into consideration.

If you have any questions regarding the internship, please feel free to contact our HR manager Vaida Cerneckyte-Larsen on +45 99 30 00 00 or by e-mail at vac@ntu.eu

Your application should be marked "Internship Application" and contain Application Letter, CV and Grade Transcripts. Applications can only be submitted via e-mail to vac@ntu.eu

To read more about NTU International, and what we do, visit our homepage: www.ntu.eu or our LinkedIn: <https://www.linkedin.com/company/ntu-international/>

Be sure to also check out our dedicated Internship page: <https://www.ntu.eu/about/internship-opportunities/>
Here you will find insights and testimonials from previous interns.