

PBC ANTISEMITISM IN P/CVE:

3RD MEETING

“Understanding and countering the Dynamics of Online Antisemitism in Extremist Contexts”

30–31 January 2025, Vienna, Austria

Topic of the event

Both the first and second PBC workshops on antisemitism in P/CVE identified the online dimension of antisemitism as a key challenge in recording and responding to antisemitic incidents. It was observed in several EU Member States (MS) that antisemitism online can lead to radicalisation and presents problems for frontline practitioners, because it is often difficult to detect and identify. Several MS have problems in addressing online antisemitism legally. This is because antisemitism has not only received a boost from online platforms but is also increasingly expressed in the ambiguity of digital subcultures, making it difficult to classify online content as antisemitic.

The relationship between online and offline has also been debated, with the two spheres sometimes difficult to separate in terms of communication and the dissemination of propaganda. The third workshop will therefore address the question of how the Internet has changed contemporary antisemitism and what countermeasures and regulatory frameworks can be used to curb its spread. It will focus on the role of the internet and social media in the dissemination of antisemitism and the question of how extremist actors exploit those technologies. This workshop will facilitate discussions around the following key questions (preliminary):

1. Which are the key narratives expressed in online antisemitism? How do extremists deploy them?
2. How does the internet and social media change expressions of online antisemitism? Which role do digital subcultures play?
3. How do online expressions of antisemitism connect to offline hate crimes?
4. Which codes and slogans are prevalent in online antisemitism of different political shapes?
5. Which legislative measures are applied to repress online antisemitism? What are promising ways to counter antisemitism in LAE and CSOs?
6. What makes it difficult for platforms to contain online antisemitism?
